

Google Code-in

JBoss @ GCI'18

Google Code-in (GCI) is an annual programming competition hosted by Google Inc. that allows pre-university students to complete tasks specified by various, partnering open source organizations.

JBoss Community hosts a large number of projects that you can try to work upon which are written in various programming languages. The primary language is Java. But there are also projects that are written in Ruby, Python, Node and other languages.

LIKE OPEN SOURCE? THEN
GCI IS PERFECT FOR YOU.
JOIN NOW!

To Know More:

<https://codein.withgoogle.com/organizations/jboss-community/>

